PANEL DISCUSSION: INDEXING AND BENCHMARKING PRIVATE ASSETS

As the “retailization” of private assets gains momentum, a variety of high-priority issues have emerged. These range from how to benchmark evergreen funds (and thus compensate GPs) to product design for low-cost diversified products including passively managed index-like offerings. This panel examines the latest developments in private markets and what they mean for both institutional and individual investors in the coming years.

Moderator: Tim Jenkinson, University of Oxford, Saïd Business School
